Meetings

The Intergovernmental Conference on the Planning of National Overall Documentation, Library and Archives Infrastructures was held at Unesco House in Paris from 23 to 27 September 1974.

Some 320 librarians, archivists and documentalists from 86 countries met to discuss library, documentation and archives services as integrated elements in national infrastructures. They were also concerned with applying technology to these services and the training of necessary personnel.

The Conference, chaired by Dr. El Sayed Mahmoud El Sheniti of the Arab Republic of Egypt, was convened by Unesco, in co-operation with the International Federation for Documentation, the International Federation of Library Associations and the International Council on Archives.

Participants agreed on several recommendations concerning the establishment of national information systems to meet economic, social and cultural requirements, as well as ways to include and co-ordinate these services to meet more fully the needs of those who use them. Unesco rôle and the aid that the Organization can offer, particularly to Third World countries, was also discussed.

Delegates had an opportunity to exchange views and familiarize themselves with some of the latest innovations and techniques in their field. Exhibits were displayed at Unesco on library building architecture, activities in Danish public libraries and publications of Unesco and the FID, IFLA and ICA. The French National Commission for Unesco organized visits to five institutions specializing in archives and documentation.

At the end of its deliberations, the Conference unanimously supported the general concept of national information systems (NATIS), encompassing all services involved in the provision of information for all sectors of the community and for all categories of users.

The final report on this Conference with the full texts of the recommendations and the objectives for the establishment of NATIS will be available shortly in English, French, Spanish and Russian from the Department of Documentation, Libraries and Archives.

A Meeting of experts on the development of the periodical press in Asia was held in Tokyo from 11 to 17 June 1974.

The meeting was attended by experts from 17 countries in Asia invited by Unesco in their personal capacity. Some experts were accompanied by technical advisers. Representatives and observers from Member States of Unesco, from organizations of the United Nations system and from international non-governmental organizations were also present. The experts unanimously elected the following officers: Chairman: Dr. Kazuo Ishikawa (Japan), President of the Japanese Periodical Publishers Association; Vice-Chairmen: Mr. Mahmoud Enayat (Iran), Director, "Negin" Monthly Review, Mr. Ibrahim Jalees (Pakistan), Editor "Awami Adalat", Mr. Sosale Srinivasachar (India), Chief Editor 'Yojana"; Rapporteur: Mr. Narayan Menon (Malaysia), Secretary-General, Association of South-East Asian Publishers.

A general discussion took place on the rôle of the periodical press in the social and economic development of Asia. Then a review of the present situation of the periodical press in Asia was made. Measures for national development were examined. As regards production, the problems of paper, printing, distribution and personnel were discussed at length. Ways and means for improving regional and international co-operation were explored. Suggestions were made which are contained in document COM-74/CONF.614/5, available from the Division of Free Flow of Information and Book Development, Unesco, 7 Place Fontenoy, 75700 Paris.

Publications

WITHERS, F.N. Standards for library service: an international survey. Paris, the Unesco Press, 1974, 421 p. 52 F. (ISBN 92-3-101177-4).

This is the 6th manual published in the series "Documentation, libraries and archives: studies and research". French and Spanish editions will follow. This survey of recommended standards for library service in some 20 countries starts with national libraries, covers also libraries in universities and colleges, special libraries, public libraries, and concludes with school libraries. It illustrates how each is but one part of a wide spectrum of interdependent library provision, and brings out the common ground there is, not only in the standards for different countries for the same kind of library, but also in the standards for all types of library. This book should be of interest to all government and other officials dealing with information and library services, and institutions, organizations and individuals working in this field.

A State-of-the-art survey on automatic indexing, by Felix Liebesny. Paris, Unesco, 1974. 42 p. (COM-74/WS/18).

This survey has been compiled on behalf of the International Federation for Documentation (FID) under a Unesco contract. It surveys the literature relating to automatic indexing techniques, services and applications as described in publications issued during the period from September 1969 to December 1973. This report is concerned with the use of machines to extract or assign index terms without human intervention once programmes or procedural rules have been established. In this context the term "indexing" relates to two interconnected functions: choosing clues that will serve to identify, for purposes of later retrieval, a particular book, document or other recorded item, and, either marking on the item itself or recording as a separate item-surrogate the tags, labels, or codes representing these clues. The references are grouped under broad headings and discussed briefly while the greater part of the work is devoted to an alphabetical listing of the cited references.

MENDOZA, L. Gunnar. El Salvador. Situación y Planificación del Servicio de Documentos Publicos. Paris, Unesco, 1973. 110 p. (3026/RMO.RD/DBA).

The purpose of the mission (January-February 1973) is defined as follows: in consultation with the authorities of the Republic of El Salvador, to study the present situation of the country's archives, and advise the authorities of El Salvador on the reorganization of the national archives and the system of handling of documents, with particular reference to the actual physical protection of archive documents.

Indonesia - Book development, by Douglas Pearce. Paris, Unesco, 1974, 94 p. (Serial No. 3043/RMO.RD/DBA).

This report examines the problems of book publishing, production, and distribution in Indonesia, and makes recommendations for their solution. It has been produced as part of the project for the Development of a National Library Service for Indonesia.

Vol. II, No. 1 (1974) of the journal Cultures deals with "Films and History".

In addition to an editorial "When the Camera Took up History...", this number contains the following articles: (1) The Film, the Image and History: The Historical Film: Actual and Virtual, by Denys Arcand; The Nature of Historical Films, by Theo Fürstenau; The Popular Hero on Film: A Sociological Essay, by Kazimierz Zygulski. (2) Visions of History: Art and Ideology: The Soviet Historical Film, by Rostislav Yurenev; Imperial Images - The British Empire and Monarchy on Film, by Jeffrey Richards; To be or To Have Been: Italian Cinema, Time and History, by Guido Fink; Popcorn and Indians: Custer on the Screen, by Brian W. Dippie; Latin American Historical Films: The Epic of the Underdogs, by Luis Pico Estrada; The New Romanian Cinema - The People's Cause, by Ecaterina Oproiu; Japanese Films: Images of a Culture, by Susumu Okada. (3) Documents and Suggestions: Cinema and History: A Document from 1898; A New Source of History: The Creation of a Depository for Historical Cinematography, by Boleslas Matuszewski; Film and the Historian, by Martin A. Jackson; Notes on a General Theory of the Film Document, by Zbigniew Czeczot-Gawrak.

Cultures is on sale at 22 francs per number. Annual subscription: 75 French francs, 55 Swiss francs.

Orders should be addressed to: For France: Unesco Bookshop, 7 Place de Fontenoy, 75700 Paris; For Switzerland: Editions de la Baconnière, CH 2017 Bondry (Neuchâtel). In other countries, Cultures can be obtained from the distributers of Unesco publications, or in large bookshops.

Social science organization and policy: first series. Belgium, Chile, Egypt, Hungary, Nigeria, Sri Lanka, with an introduction by A.B. Cherns. Paris/The Hague, Unesco/Mouton, 1974. 352 p., tables. 45 francs. (ISBN 92-3-101084-0 (Unesco); ISBN 2.7193-9817-X (Mouton)). (To be published also in French).

This volume comprises six country studies giving information on the present state and organizational structure of social sciences and evaluation of achievements which should contribute to developing research and training, as well as to identifying steps necessary for the future development and application of the social sciences. They also deal with the ways of achieving a more efficient transmission of social sciences information and knowledge to governments and the public, and the principal objectives of social science policies in different social and economic environments. The general introduction contains an important analysis of social science research and training policies.

The 1974 November-December issue (Vol. XXVIII, No. 6) of the Unesco Bulletin for Libraries contains the following articles:

France

The Permanent Delegation of France to Unesco has sent us the following information concerning the development of bibliographical services in France in 1972, thus bringing up to date the information published in this Bulletin in 1973 (Vol. XIII, No.5).

I. NATIONAL INSTITUTIONS

By decree of 7 January 1972, it was decided that terminology commissions should be set up in each of the central administrations of the State, by ministerial order, whenever the situation so demands. The task of these commissions will be to draw up a list, for a particular sector, of gaps in the French vocabulary, and propose the necessary terms either for describing new phenomena, or for replacing undesirable loans from foreign languages.

The results of this work will be sent to the Rapporteur-General of the Haut Comité pour la défense et l'expansion de la langue française, which is responsible for co-ordinating them. At the proposal of the commission chairmen, each minister will draw up a list of approved expressions and terms.

24 April 1972 saw the foundation of the Agence francophone pour la numérotation internationale du livre (A.F.N.I.L.). It was set up initially by the Bibliothèque Nationale in Paris, the Syndicat national de l'édition, the Cercle de la librairie, the Bibliothèque royale Albert ler in Brussels, the Association belge des éditeurs de langue française and the Société des libraires et éditeurs de la Suisse romande. The Agence published its statutes in the chronicle of the "Bibliographie de la France" of 12 April 1972; they were reprinted in the form of a pamphlet:

AGENCE FRANCOPHONE POUR LA NUMEROTATION INTERNATIONALE DU LIVRE Paris. Normes pour la numérotation des livres. Paris, Cercle de la librairie, 1972. 14 p. (ISBN 2-7654-0001-6).

A Decree of 24 December 1971 (Journal Officiel of 16 January 1972) laid down the administrative and financial organization of the external services of the Institut national de recherche et de documentation pédagogiques: regional educational research and documentation centres administered by a director and an advisory committee under the authority of the rector of the academy, departmental or local educational documentation centres constituting sections of the C.R.D.P.

A decree of 24 May 1972 laid down the organization of the Service de documentation et d'études de la Cour de cassation and the conditions for communicating judiciary decisions to the Service, also the conditions for communicating the documentation of the central card index to jurisdictions and to certain services.

The Administrator of the Bibliothèque nationale has drawn up a report on "La Bibliothèque nationale en 1969" which was published in 1971 and which also contained information on the evolution of the Bibliothèque nationale since 1956.

In the series "Notes et études documentaires", edited by Documentation française, a pamphlet entitled "La Lecture publique en France" by Alice Garrigoux has been issued (No. 3948, 15 December 1972). It traces the evolution of public reading in France since 1968, by means of figures, statistical documents and graphs.

The Comité national français pour l'année internationale du livre published a report in December 1972 on the various activities organized in this connexion:

COMITE NATIONAL FRANCAIS POUR L'ANNEE INTERNATIONALE DU LIVRE. Paris. Rapport du Comité français. Paris: Comité, 1972. 32 p. multigr.

The results of International Book Year were published in the Bulletin des bibliothèques de France, 18th year, No. 6, June 1973, pp. 233-244.

II. PROFESSIONAL ASSOCIATIONS

The Association des bibliothécaires français now has two new groups:

Groupe d'ALSACE since 25 November 1972.
Groupe de CHAMPAGNE-ARDENNES since the Colmar Congress.

This Congress was held at Colmar on 5, 6 and 7 May 1972. The theme was: "Des bibliothèques pour la France".

The Association de l'Ecole nationale supérieure de bibliothécaires issued its "Annuaire" in 1972.

On 2 July 1971, the Association nationale pour le développement des bibliothèques publiques (A.N.D.B.P.) was registered at the Préfecture de Police. Aim: to give all French people easier access to information, culture and life-long education by promoting the development of networks of modern public libraries, which constitute an essential element for such activities. Headquarters: 107, rue Vercingétorix, 75014 Paris.

The Association des bibliothèques ecclésiastiques de France (A.B.E.F.) founded in 1963, is composed of the libraries of seminaries, monasteries, convents and other similar institutions. Within this Association commissions have been set up, to be responsible for technical services designed to facilitate the work of librarians. A liaison bulletin has existed since 1971.

The Bibliothèque pour tous have been reorganized. They are grouped in departmental associations called "Culture et bibliothèques pour tous", which in turn are federated in a "Union nationale Culture et bibliothèques pour tous". 2,500 libraries belong to this Union.

III. NATIONAL BIBLIOGRAPHIES

The two current national bibliographies "Bibliographie de la France" and "Biblio" have been amalgamated into:

Bibliographie de la France. Biblio. Paris: Cercle de la librairie, 1972, 5 January (No.1). Follows up the "Bibliographie de la France".

The weekly and monthly issues are the same as before. "Livres du trimestre" and "Livres du semestre" are replaced by "Livres du trimestre - Biblio". "Livres de l'année - Biblio" takes the place of the two former yearly editions. Both "Livres du trimestre - Biblio" and "Livres de l'année - Biblio" use the dictionary catalogue method.

We should also note the appearance of a new current bibliography: Francophone édition: revue bibliographique de l'édition de langue française dans le monde... / dir. Jacques Dodeman/. Paris: France-Expansion, November 1972 (No. 1).

This bibliograph lists "all the expressions of intellectual endeavour produced in all the French-speaking countries and available from publishers": books, new periodicals, but also transparencies, films, instructive games, micro-formats, gramophone records, tapes, etc.

In addition to the publications in process of preparation ("Inventaire du fonds français, graveurs du XVIIIe siècle", etc.), mention may be made of the following:

Computerization

An account of the activity of the Bureau pour l'automatisation des bibliothèques (BAB) was given in the "Bulletin des bibliothèques de France", 18th year, No. 2, February 1973, pp. 45 to 55.

In the BAB, a Groupe technique pour l'automatisation des bibliothèques has been set up for the purpose of making an analysis of library work with a view to computerization.

A Comité d'étude pour le catalogue national centralisé has been in operation since February 1972. On completing its work, it should submit a proposal for a system of producing and distributing bibliographical cards and library catalogues.

Portugal

The Permanent Working Group for Economic and Social Documentation and Information (Av. D. Carlos I, No. 126-6°, Lisbon 2) has sent us the following information concerning the development of bibliographical services in Portugal in 1972, thus bringing up to date the information published in this bulletin in 1972 (Vol. XIII, No. 3).

I. NATIONAL INSTITUTIONS

The Grupo de trabalho permanente para a documentação et informação économico-social (Permanent Working Group for economic and social documentation and information) was officially established, under the authority of the Prime Minister, on 12 August 1971. Its terms of reference are: to decide on policy for economic and social documentation and information; to promote and co-ordinate the exchange of documentary information among the participants in the Group and to develop contacts with other national and international information services; to set up an active information system which will meet documentation and information requirements.

The Centre publishes:

Bibliografia de economia portuguesa (Bibliography of the Portuguese economy) annually.

Publicações periódicas de interesse económico-social. This is a union catalogue, updated to include new accessions of periodicals in libraries and particulars of subscriptions terminated or periodicals which have ceased publication.

Boletim de documentação económico-social. Indexing bulletin based on abstracts of periodicals constituting the Catalogue Publicações periódicas de interesse económico-social.

Bibliografias sinalèticas. Series of bibliographies of works of all countries on all subjects.

The following bibliographies have been published:

1. Produtividade (Productivity);

2. Investimento e Financiamento (Investment and financing);

3. Projectos de desenvolvimento (Development projects);

4. Desenvolvimento regional (Regional development);

5. Prevenção (Prevention);

6. Poluição (Pollution);

7. Segurança social (Social security).

The Group consists of nearly 70 public and private institutions, which share the tasks of abstracting and exchanging information.

Syria

The Ministry of Education of the Syrian Arab Republic, Damascus, has sent us the following information on the development of bibliographical services in Syria in 1972, thus supplementing the information published in this bulletin in 1972 (Vol. XII, No. 4).

I. NATIONAL INSTITUTIONS

7. Within the Ministry of Information there is a special service for conserving documents (newspaper cuttings), called the Archives Service, which was established by Decree No. 186 of 10 December 1961 (promulgated when the Ministry was established).

This service provides information on politics, economics and communication (Arab and international information). It draws on over a million documents (extracts from newspapers and from reports). It has no general archive directory. Reference to subjects on which inquiries are made is by means of cards.

Ukraine

The Department of Scientific use of Documents and Information of the Archives Administration attached to the Council of Ministers of the Ukrainian SSR and the CPSU State Library has sent us the following information on the development of bibliographical services in the Ukraine in 1972, thus bringing up to date the information published in this bulletin in 1973 (Vol. XIII, No. 4).

I. NATIONAL INSTITUTIONS

1. The Archives Administration attached to the Council of Ministers of the Ukrainian Soviet Socialist Republic (252601, Kiev, 110, GSP, Solomenskaja St. 24) is responsible for the development of archives, and for the scientific and methodological direction and supervision of the activities of the Archives Services, and it disseminates the results of experiments carried out by them. The Archives Administration publishes a scientific information bulletin, Arhivy Ukrainy (Ukrainian archives).

III. NATIONAL BIBLIOGRAPHY

1. Books and pamphlets on the Ukraine.

Novye knigi USSR (New books of the Ukrainian SSR), (published every ten days)

The following details are given for each project:

1. Title
2. Description and applications
3. Institution
4. Person in charge
5. Sponsoring body
6. Duration

Each entry is preceded by an ISORID code number.

BE/DST/1

1. The internal processing format for bibliographic data at the Royal Library of Belgium

2. Integrated library system; internal processing format, based on MARC II; software package for information exchange.

3. Centre national de documentation scientifique et technique (Bibliothèque royale de Belgique), 4 Bld de l'Empereur, B-1000 Brussels.

4. GOOSSENS, P. (Mrs.); BOURGOIS, M.J. (Mrs.).

6. 1 January 1972 - 31 December 1974

BE/DST/A/2

1. Bibliographie de Belgique - Catalogues alphabétiques et matières de la Bibliothèque royale: applications reliées. (Bibliography of Belgium - Alphabetical and subject catalogues of the Royal Library: related applications.)

2. Printing of the Bibliographie de Belgique by phototypesetting machine. Computer aided indexing. Preparation of catalogue cards for the Royal Library. This project is part of the preparations for an integrated computerized system for the Royal Library.

3. Bibliothèque royale Albert ler, 4 Bld de l'Empereur, 1000 Brussels.

4. SCHERER-GOOSSENS, Paula.

6. Analysis started in 1972 (2 years); programming started in 1973 (3 years).

BE/DST/A/3

1. Belgica Typographica 1541-1600

2. Printing of a catalogue of works published between 1541 and 1600, the place where they are held being indicated. Computer-aided indexing. Extensions planned: publication of cumulated works; preparation of a union catalogue; compilation of an author catalogue for each library.

3. Bibliothèque royale Albert ler, 4 Bld de l'Empereur, 1000 Brussels.

4. GLORIEUX, Geneviève; SCHERER-GOOSENS, Paula.

6. Analysis started in 1972 (2 years).

BE/DST/A/4

1. Le catalogue collectif des périodiques étrangers: aspects et problèmes d'automation (Union catalogue of foreign periodicals: aspects and problems of computarization).

2. Union catalogue of periodicals: computerization for publication and data retrieval; computer programmes and instructions.

3. Centre national de documentation scientifique et technique (Bibliothèque royale de Belgique), 4 Bld de l'Empereur, B-1000 Brussels.

4. GOEDEME, G.; GOOSSENS, P.

6. Started in 1972. Approximate duration: 3 1/2 years.

BE/DST/A/5

1. CIDAT (Centre d'information appliquée au développement et à l'agriculture tropicale) (Centre for information applied to develpment and tropical agriculture).

2. The purpose of the CIDAT project is to establish an analytical bibliography for tropical agronomy and to study by means of agrobioclimatic analogy the possibility of successfully transferring, without costly experimentation, crop biotypes or techniques to places which have certain analogies with the original terrain. The bibliographical analyses are computerized. A coding system divided into independent zones enables the documentation processed to be set within natural limits (co-ordinates, climate, soil, vegetation) and the previous analyses to be completed. Likewise, the establishment of climatic formulae, based on a special code, of several thousands of stations makes it possible to develop the study of agrobioclimatic analogies and their applications.

3. Musée royal de l'Afrique centrale, Steenweg of Leuven 13, 1980 Tervuren.

4. CAHEN, Lucien.

6. Started in 1970.

BE/DST/A/6

1. L'indexation et la récupération dans un système documentaire automatisé (Indexing and retrieval in a computerized documentary system).

2. Automatic and semi-automatic indexing; machine translation; application of applied linguistic methods in automatic retrieval.

3. Centre national de documentation scientifique et technique (Bibliothèque royale de Belgique), 4 Bld de l'Empereur, B-1000 Brussels.

4. DENRUYTER, P.

6. Started in January 1972. Duration: 3 years.

BE/DST/A/7

1. L'exploitation des bandes magnétiques: MARC, BNB, MARC Canadien, etc. (Exploitation of magnetic tapes: MARC, BNB, Canadian MARC, etc.).

2. Software bibliographic format; establishment of parent cards; selective dissemination of cards with information; retrospective search.

3. Centre national de documentation scientifique et technique (Bibliothèque royale de Belgique), 4 Bld de l'Empereur, B-1000 Brussels.

4. VAN HONACKER, Yves.

6. Started in January 1972. Duration: approximately 3 years.

BE/DST/A/8

1. Programmes pour l'élaboration de chaines d'impression (format standard) (Programmes for the preparation of printing chains - standard format).

2. Bibliographic description; universal standard format; inquiry and printing modules (chains).

3. Centre national de documentation scientifique et technique (Bibliothèque royale de Belgique), 4 Bld de l'Empereur, B-1000 Brussels.

4. DETOURNAY, P.; LATINUS, P.

6. Approximate duration: June 1973 - July 1974.

BE/DST/A/9

1. Recherche documentaire et thésaurus (Information retrieval and thesaurus).

2. The contents of reviews, newspapers, books, studies and reports analysed by the documentalists of OBCE are classified in a file containing references to articles, known as the "document file" on the basis of a system of key words. A thesaurus of key words on international trade was prepared for this purpose by OBCE and CNCE, which has since become the Centre français du commerce extérieur (CFCE) (French foreign trade centre).

Over 20,000 documents have been entered, so that OBCE has been able to test the system and make a number of changes in it, removing unused key words from the thesaurus, and facilitating coding operations while improving reading of the computer print-outs. The first edition of the thesaurus has been in use by OBCE since April 1973. The OBCE/CFCE thesaurus enables four types of concepts to be described: general (economics and international trade); products (featuring in foreign trade); markets (countries or regions); agencies (most frequently cited in documents concerning international trade).

A series of descriptors known as syntax descriptors (such as "to, for, towards, in, of, by") has been introduced, the sole purpose of which is to appear on the computer print-outs as terms linking the descriptors. It is based on two different and complementary representation schemes: a permuted alphabetical list of all descriptors and their equivalent terms. It covers 3,617 descriptors and some 3,200 equivalent terms. Each equivalent term corresponds to a concept, and it has been decided that the only means of expression authorized for indexing it is the descriptor or descriptors to which this equivalent term refers. The equivalent terms cannot therefore be used for indexing. There are arrowed diagrams (104) in which all the terms of the thesaurus have been classified by semantic field. The list of countries included in the thesaurus is based on that drawn up by the European communities for the foreign trade statistics of their Member States. In addition, there are descriptors referring to regions or groups of countries commonly mentioned in works on economics. The lists of products were compiled by the authors of the thesaurus on the basis of the Brussels Nomenclature NdB and the harmonized nomenclature for the foreign trade statistics of the EEC countries (NIMEXE).

3. Office belge du commerce extérieur (OBCE), 162 Bld E. Jacqmain, 1000 Brussels, and Centre français du commerce extérieur (CFCE), Avenue d'Iéna, Paris.

4. SCHOLLAERT; WAUTHION; CLAES.

6. Started in 1969. Duration: 2 years.

BE/DST/A/10

1. Chaine de recherche de l'information dans un fichier (Chain for information retrieval in a file).

2. General chart of the chain; module-function-extraction of terms retrieved; tree-form structure; controlled vocabulary system; free language system; solving of Boolean equations.

3. Centre national de documentation scientifique et technique (Bibliothèque royale de Belgique), 4 Bld de l'Empereur, B-1000 Brussels.

4. DETOURNAY, P.

6. Started in January 1973. Approximate duration: one year.

B/DST/A/11

1. Structure et fonctionnement d'un système décentralisé de bibliographie automatique (Structure and operation of a decentralized system of computerized bibliography).

2. Standardization of library work and documentation; comparative study of remote transmission formats; acquisition and transmission of data in an information network; tele-informatics.

3. Université de Liège, Bureau organisation technique, 55 avenue des Tilleuls, 4000 Liège.

4. PIRON, P.A.; HASSE, C.; CLAUDE, J.

6. Started in January 1972. Duration: 3 years.

BE/DST/A/12

1. Lecture optique de textes: applications pour bibliothèques et centres de documentation (Optical reading of texts: applications for libraries and documentation centres).

2. Comparative study of possible solutions; applications for the preparation of thesauri; uses in libraries.

3. Vrije Universiteit Brussel - Toegepuste Mechanica, Adolf Buyllaan 87, B-1050 Brussels. Brussels Free University, Brussels.

4. VAN GEEN, Roger; EISENDRATH, Georges.

6. Started in August 1972. Duration: 4 years.

SWEDEN

SW/DOK/A/1

Local code: 732037 S

1. Information service from the Swedish Society for Technical Documentation

2. Short courses in information and documentation for industrial librarians; development of a tape/slide presentation of library and information work; reference service; work on a new Swedish edition of the UDC classification.

6. 1 July 1973 - 30 June 1974.

SW/DOK/A/17

Local code: 732071 S

1. Research scholarship within I&D

2. A study of decentralized computer-based information services for scientific and technical research.

3. University of Lund Library, S-221 01 Lund.

4. CARLSSON, Jan.

5. The Swedish Council for Scientific Information and Documentation (SINFDOK).

6. 16 September 1973 - 28 February 1974.

SW/DOK/A/18

Local code: 732084 S

1. FID/TLS UPC-committees international activities

2. Co-operation in international UDC - classification work within FID (Fédération Internationale de Documentation).

3. The Swedish Society for Technical Documentation (TLS), Åvägen 4, S-183 30 Täby, c/o Einar Öhman.

4. ÖHMAN, Einar; STRIDSBERG, Astrid.

5. The Swedish Council for Scientific Information and Documentation (SINFDOK).

6. 1 July 1973 (earlier project from 1969) - 30 June 1974.

SW/DOK/A/19 Local code: 721643/S 93

1. Computer-based terminology work in the field of plastics and polymers

2. The result will be a four-language list of terms in the field of plastics and polymers.

3. The Swedish Standards Association, Box 3295, S-103 66 Stockholm.

4. OLLNER, Jan; NORMELLI, Per.

5. The Swedish Council for Scientific Information and Documentation (SINFDOK).

6. 1 July 1972 (earlier project from 1970) - 30 June 1974.

SW/DOK/A/20 Local code: 732024 S

1. Manual substructure search

2. Manual searches of molecular substructures in Chemical Substructure Index and current Abstracts of Chemistry and Index Chemicus.

3. Biomedical Documentation Centre, Karolinska Institutet, Fack, S-104 01 Stockholm.

4. FALKENBERG, Göran; KALLNER, Anders.

5. The Swedish Council for Scientific Information and Documentation (SINFDOK).

6. 1 July 1973 - 30 June 1974.

SW/DOK/A/21 Local code: 732064 S

1. Standardization in the field of documentation

2. Standard bibliographic description, country codes, transliteration, standard book numbering, terminology for information and documentation, etc.

3. The Swedish Standards Association, Box 3295, S-103 66 Stockholm 3.

4. OLLNER, Jan; ÅHLIN, Arvid.

6. 1 July 1973 (earlier project from 1969) - 30 June 1974.

SW/DOK/A/22 Local code: 732032 S

1. Appraisal of decentralized routines within an international information system. The Swedish INIS centre

2. Studies of administrative and technical routines in the INIS regional co-operation. Time and cost studies, computer applications for indexing, abstracting and cataloguing.

3. Atomic Energy Company of Sweden, Fack, S-611 01 Nyköping 1.

4. HERMANSSON-SNICKARS, Folke; KELÉN, Kerstin.

5. The Swedish Council for Scientific Information and Documentation (SINFDOK); The Royal Swedish Ministry of Industry.

6. 1 July 1973 - 30 June 1974 (not terminated)

SW/DOK/A/23 Local code: 732088 S

1. Remote on-line inter-active information retrieval from ESRO/ELDO data bank

2. The ESRO RECON-terminal has been in operation at the RIT since October 1972. An increasing number of researchers in industries and universities are using the system. In order to introduce the ESRO RECON to potential new users several information meetings are planned.

3. Royal Institute of Technology Library, SDI-service, S-100 44 Stockholm 70.

4. GLUCHOWICZ, Zofia; HJERPPE, Roland.

5. The Swedish Council for Scientific Information and Documentation (SINFDOK).

6. 1 December 1973 (earlier project from 1969) - 30 November 1974.

SW/DOK/A/24 Local code: 72-1680/S 101

1. Product data bank for pumps, valves and small engines

2. A computerized product data bank for pumps, valves and small engines. Detailed product descriptions will be implemented. The data bank will be a valuable complement to the SDI-service of the RIT.

3. Royal Institute of Technology Library, S-100 44 Stockholm 70.

4. TELL, Björn.

5. The Swedish Council for Scientific Information and Documentation (SINFDOK).

6. 1 July 1973 - 30 June 1974.

SW/DOK/A/25 Local code: 732079 S

1. Computerized SDI-services

2. Computerized SDI-service in science, technology and to some extent also the behavioural sciences.

3. Royal Institute of Technology Library, SDI-service, S-100 44 Stockholm 70.

4. GLUCHOWICZ, Zofia.

5. The Swedish Council for Scientific Information and Documentation (SINFDOK). The Swedish Council for Science Research.

6. 1 July 1973 (earlier project from 1969).

SW/DOK/A/26 Local code: 732071 S

1. RIP. Interactive processors for large data files without a rigid structure

2. The development of a registration and search system for the handling of large textual information files and structured data files. A system of data interpreters will interface with the access routines. The possibility of manipulating the interpreters will increase flexibility in the generation of databases. Efficient handling of both numerical and textual information is essential, efficient sub-system for the handling of a set of files, varying in the number and characteristics is vital.

PEETERS, Emile; ROSIER, Daniel. Traitement par ordinateur de l'information documentaire. Brussels, Centre de recherches scientifiques et techniques de l'industrie des fabrications métalliques (CRIF), 1972. 45 p., 33 fig. In French (No. EL 5).

After an introduction giving the circumstances in which the research was carried out, the paper first describes the general organization of documentary data processing geared to a computerized data retrieval system using a small-scale computer (internal memory 8 k octets). The principal subjects dealt with after that are: description of the operation monitor, which enables the system to be managed for much wider uses than documentary data processing; documentary information retrieval comprising prior installation of the thesaurus and magnetic storage of data; preparation of index bulletins for use by research workers and documentalists, to enable them to engage in fairly extensive documentary search without having recourse to a computer. Furthermore, the various components of computation of the estimated cost of data storage, documentary search and the compilation of indexes are also analysed.

A. INTERNATIONAL ACTIVITIES

International Development Research Centre, Unesco, OECD

Representatives from 34 national and international institutions met in Ottawa from 11 to 13 June 1974 to study a proposal for the establishment of an international information system in the field of economic and social development, at present known as DEVSIS.

The meeting was held under the joint sponsorship of the International Development Research Centre (IDRC), Unesco and the Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD).

The meeting recommended that four organizations - IDRC, OECD, Unesco and the United Nations Development Programme - should convene as soon as possible, under the auspices of the UNISIST programme, a steering committee to prepare detailed proposals on the shape of the system and to begin preliminary negotiations with sponsoring agencies and governments.

It was agreed that the steering committee of 8 to 10 persons, should comprise a balance of representatives of both Third World and industrialized countries, and should include both information scientists and development policy makers.

The steering committee will aim to prepare a recommendation calling for the establishment of DEVSIS within the United Nations family for presentation to the Economic and Social Council of the United Nations in 1975.

Representatives at the Ottawa meeting agreed on the urgent need to make better use, for the purpose of development, of the social and economic information that is or can be made available in various centres and countries.

It was stressed, however, that careful preparation on the shape of the system would be necessary to ensure that it will be of the most effective use possible to planners, policy makers and field workers in developing countries, and that full account will be taken of the existing information infrastructure in the Third World.

As a result, the steering committee is being asked to establish a team to do a full study, including the scope and coverage of the subjects that may be included in DEVSIS.

The study will build upon the experience acquired by existing and planned information initiatives in fields such as atomic energy (INIS) and agricultural sciences (AGRIS) and within the conceptual framework of UNISIST.

Representatives stressed that a DEVSIS programme should provide for decentralized input and output, and for a central processing facility; the various products of the system should be disseminated in the most appropriate manner to reach the various categories of users.

The Ottawa meeting was hosted by the International Development Research Centre, a public corporation established by the Parliament of Canada to support research designed to adapt science and technology to the specific needs of developing countries.

The next meeting, which should discuss the results of the feasibility study, will be organized in 1975 and hosted by the Deutsche Stiftung für Internationale Entwicklung (Federal Republic of Germany) in Berlin.

International Federation for Documentation

Sources, organization, utilization of international documentation - Proceedings of the International Symposium on the Documentation of the United Nations and other Intergovernmental Organizations, Geneva, 21-23 August 1972/Sources, organisation, utilisation de documentation internationale - Actes des Journées d'études internationales sur la documentation des Nations Unies et d'autres Organisations intergouvernementales, Genève, 21-23 août 1972. The Hague, FID, 1974. 586 p.Fr.52/$20 (FID 506).

The Symposium, organized by the United Nations Institute for Training and Research (UNITAR) with the co-operation of the Association of International Libraries (AIL), IFLA and FID, brought together 274 participants having a professional interest in the documentation of international organizations. The Proceedings contain the full texts of the 51 papers presented at the three sections of the Symposium: (1) sources of international documentation; (2) acquisition and organization of international documentation; and (3) utilization of international documentation. The Proceedings furthermore contain the 64 recommendations, the reports of the rapporteurs of the three main sections, introductory reports, an author index and a list of the participants with full addresses.

International Federation of Library Associations (IFLA)

The organization of the library profession - A symposium based on contributions to the 37th session of the IFLA General Council, Liverpool, 1971. Edited by A.H. Chaplin. Pullach/München, Verlag Dokumentation, 1973. 131 p. (ISBN 3-7940-4309-X).

This publication is based on the contributions received for the above-mentioned symposium. The preparatory and editorial work was supported by a contract with Unesco, which provided also for the production of an introductory working paper and the submission of a report on the results of the sessions devoted to the theme. Most of the papers deal with national or regional aspects of the theme. Two papers, on organization in libraries of particular types, were presented to meetings of IFLA sections - those of Public Libraries and of National and University Libraries. A group of papers presented to the Sub-section on Library Work with Children is being published in International library review, vol. 4, No. 3. One paper, on development in library education in the United Kingdom, had been written originally for publication elsewhere but was included as illustrating the educational activity of an association which had been a pioneer in this field. Another contribution, on co-operation between IFLA and FID, is a summary of the current position prepared after the Liverpool meeting. The general introduction and the final section summarizing conclusions to be drawn from the papers are abridgements of the preparatory working paper and the final report to Unesco respectively.

International Association for the development of documentation libraries and archives in Africa (A.I.D.B.A.)

The A.I.D.B.A. will organize the second Afro-Scandinavian Libraries Conference in Dakar, in April 1975, in co-operation with the Associations of Librarians of Nordic countries. The theme will be "Planning and development strategy for libraries in Scandinavia and Africa from 1975 to the year 2000".

The aim of this second conference is to evaluate the extension of libraries in Scandinavia and in Africa from 1961 to 1975 and to adopt a short- and long-term programme of co-operation and strategy of development from 1975 to 2000. The first conference, held in Copenhagen (Denmark) in October 1961, brought together scores of Scandinavian and African librarians permitting them to study the library situation in their respective countries, to compare their experiences and to adopt a strategy of development.

Further information may be obtained from the Executive Bureau, B.P. 375, Dakar, Senegal.

B. NATIONAL ACTIVITIES

FRANCE

The Documentation centre of the Bureau pour l'automatisation des bibliothèques (BAB) is located at 61 rue de Richelieu, 75002 Paris.

It has taken over and added to the stock of the Bibliothèque nationale pour la documentation et l'automatisation, established in 1967 by the Direction des bibliothèques et de la lecture publique (DBLP). This stock is a specialized collection of material on information science applied to libraries and documentation. It consists of a variety of documents obtained through its own purchases, under legal deposit for French works, with DBLP assistance for certain periodicals and through BAB contacts in France and abroad. The stock consists of 3,000 documents and 70 titles of periodicals which are abstracted. The classification system used for the documents has broad divisions which are flexible and extendible, and the documents are indexed by means of descriptors.

The Centre publishes a fortnightly journal, BABillard, which is an internal bulletin of accessions analysed with information on each particular field and news items concerning BAB. It takes part in BIB DOC, a bulletin of accessions common to DBLP, ENSB-MASSY and BAB. It maintains contact with a great many documentation centres.

The Centre is open every day from 10 a.m. to noon and from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. to DBLP staff and to persons interested in the computerization of libraries and documentation, who may consult the documents on the spot, borrow them or obtain a photocopy. A list of reviews has been drawn up and can be sent on request.

Non-book materials, cataloguing rules. London, Library Association, 1973. 129 p. Price £0.90.

This code has been published under the auspices of the Media Cataloguing Rules of the Library Association and the National Council for Educational Technology. These rules have been established for use in all kinds of organizations engaged in the collection and exploitation of the non-book materials with which they deal, whether national bibliographic agencies, resource centres and libraries in the educational field, other types of multimedia libraries and collections, or such institutions as film and record libraries which specialize in only one or two of the categories. It contains the following chapters: Chapter 1. General rules, sets out the general principles, procedures and requirements common to all the non-book materials for the cataloguing of which the rules as a whole are intended. Chapters 2 (Graphics and three-dimensional representations), 3 (Motion pictures) and 4 (Sound recordings) are supplementary to Chapter 1, and each sets out only the special provisions necessary for the range of materials which it covers, where these extend, modify or otherwise differ from the general provisions of Chapter 1. The order and notation of rules is the same in all chapters and the general and special rules are cross-linked. Three appendices relate to Abbreviations, Anglo-American cataloguing rules, Film terms.

B. NATIONAL ACTIVITIES

ARGENTINA

A task now being carried out in the field of Argentinian history and its documentation is the preparation of the Guía para investigaciones históricas en la Argentina (Guide for historical research in Argentina), a guide to archives and libraries due for publication in 1974-1975.

The project was begun in Buenos Aires in September 1972 under the auspices of the Symposium of visiting research workers, but the Guide is now also sponsored by the Centro para investigaciones históricas en la Argentina (CIHA), made up of both Argentinian and foreign research workers. The Centre receives grants from Argentinian and international employers and from educational and cultural organizations. In addition to selective lists of Argentinian archives and libraries concerned with the history of Argentina, the Guide will include specific information on the content and organization of the more important institutions. The publishers also intend to disseminate the particular questionnaires, reports and catalogues used in preparing the Guide, supplying photocopies of the material to several Argentinian universities and to other countries. It is to be hoped that the Guide and the CIHA archives will facilitate the planning and implementation of research projects on Argentinian history and allied subjects.

Information on institutions which might be of use to research workers specializing in Argentinian subjects may be sent to: Guía para investigaciones históricas en la Argentina, Sarmiento 643 - 8° piso - Oficina 822, Buenos Aires, Argentina.

Internationales Verzeichnis der Wirtschaftsverbände/World guide trade associations. 1st edition, Part 2: Africa, America, Asia, Oceania, Index. Pullach-München, Verlag Dokumentation, 1974. 1429 p. (ISBN 3-7940-1022-1).

Whereas as Part 1 of this handbook contains some 15,000 addresses of European trade associations, this volume (Part 2) lists more than 11,000 associations in the U.S.A. and in non-European countries. The handbook includes national and international organizations and associations of trade, such as chambers of commerce and crafts, professional organizations, consumer organizations, employers' and employees' groups and organizations of the service professions. The associations are organized by continents, then by countries and finally in mechanical alphabetical order. Each entry contains: the name of the association, the abbreviation if known; the year of foundation; the address including postal code; the telephone number. The main parts classified according to their geographical-alphabetical order are completed by a detailed subject index which lists systematically all associations according to their branch and production.

FOGLE, Catherine; GLEITER, Karin; McINTYRE, Marilyn. International directory of population information and library resources. 1st ed., Chapel Hill (N.C.), Carolina Population Center, University of North Carolina. 1972. 324 p., index.

This directory describes, by continent and country, the organizations concerned with demography, their activities, their library resources and/or their publications. This is followed by a list of the periodicals published by these bodies. The indexes give: the names of the organizations (English, other than English, abbreviations) the fields in which the organizations work, their geographical areas and the publications and special collections put out by their libraries where these exist. A first supplement to this addition appeared in September 1972.

Available from the Carolina Population Center, University of North Carolina, University Square, Chapel Hill, N.C. 27514.

World communism, a handbook, 1918-1965, edited by Witold S. Sworakowski, Stanford, Hoover Institution Press, 1973. 576 p. $25.

The handbook provides a concise historical background for every communist party that existed anywhere in the world up to the end of 1965, and covers the developments leading to the founding of each party and the most important activities of each. It is organized alphabetically by country, and there is an article on each of the 106 countries in which a communist party was active. There are also articles on the whole of Subsaharan Africa, and an overview of the international communist movement is provided by articles on the Comintern and six of its auxiliary organizations, and on the post-World War II Cominform and front organizations. Also there are short articles on the Council for Mutual Economic Assistance and the Warsaw Treaty Organization. Most articles are followed by a paragraph on important party records or documents and on party press organs, a list of party congresses and a concise bibliography. Covering the years 1918 to 1965, the handbook provides the background information for the Hoover Institutions's Yearbook on international communist affairs, which began publication in 1967 with coverage of the year 1966.

A. INTERNATIONAL ACTIVITIES

International Council on Archives (ICA)

A general conference on archive planning and development in the Third World will be held in Dakar from 28 to 31 January 1975.

The conference was convened and topics for discussion were selected so as to meet the need of the Third World countries to acquire archival and pre-archival services, for the purpose of economic, social and cultural development. On the first day of the conference, a series of papers on the specific contribution of archives to development in the Third World countries will be presented and discussed. On the second and third days, the Conference will study a draft plan of medium-term action (1975-1978) prepared by the Committee for the Development of Archives, an ICA body responsible for development questions, consisting of experienced archivists from developed countries and from the Third World. The plan will be world-wide in scope, and will include practical and realistic projects making for the balanced development of archives, both regionally and nationally. The final day of the Conference will be marked by the official launching of the International Fund for the Development of Archives, to be managed by ICA. This fund should become a new financing tool, in addition to other more traditional resources, and support the efforts of developing countries intending to establish effective and modern national archives structures and services.

B. NATIONAL ACTIVITIES

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

Issue No. 1, Vol. 37 (1974) of the American archivist contains, on pp. 67-72, a select bibliography compiled by the Committee on College and University Archives of the Society of American Archivists, which lists useful writings primarily to aid those people new to the field of college and university archives but which also benefit experienced archivists as well.

Besides this bibliography, the committee recently prepared a Directory to college and university archives (1972) and a forms manual (1973), a selection of 300 forms representative of all aspects of archival activity.
